AIR MAIL PLANE BURNS KILLING TWO AVIATORS

Pilot Walter Stevens and His Mechanician Burned to Death.

STEVENS ON LAST TRIP

Pilot Walter Stevens and his mechanician, Russell Thomas, were burned to death on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the all-metal monoplane or German "junker" in which they were making a relay flight burst into flames at Pemberville, Ohio, 15 miles south of Toledo.

Stevens and Thomas were flying an all-metal J. L. plane of the new type, similar to the one in which Max Miller met a like fate. They left Cleveland at 12.20 for Chicago, carrying 400 pounds of mail. They were flying at an altitude of 500 feet when the plane caught fire.

Pilot Stevens was well known in Bellefonte and was a veteran of the air mail service having started at its inauguration. He was in Bellefonte for many months when the planes made regular stops here between Cleveland and New York. He was older than most of the pilots and was very sociable and of a most agreeable disposition. The sad fate of Pilots Stevens and Max Miller and their mechanicians since the first of the month has cast a deep gloom among their friends here.

A striking incident in connection with the death of both Pilot Stevens and Pilot Miller is the reference each made before they started on the flights. Pilot Miller in writing to a friend in Bellefonte stated he was making his last trip and Pilot Stevens, speaking with friends at the Cleveland field, told them it was his last flight as he had resigned the service.

Helped the Students.

The State College Chamber of Commerce, a newly organized body of that growing town's representative citizens, helped the many students arriving at the college this week in securing rooms and getting adjusted to their new surroundings. This was a splendid move as much of the discomfort and difficulties of former years was overcome in spite of the fact that more students are enrolled at the college this year than any year before. With their new and active organization State College will be able to meet many problems in a better manner.

Poisoned by Sting of Fly.

Miss Catherine Bentz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bentz, had a very painful left arm this week as the result of blood poisoning developing after she had been stung near her elbow by a dragon fly on Wednesday of last week. For a day or so she paid little attention to it but when the blood poisoning developed the arm became swollen and so painful that a physician was consulted. The infection is under control and no serious results are anticipated.

New Uniforms for P. R. R. Men.

A new standard uniform for Pennsylvania Railroad conductors, brakemen and other uniformed employes has been announced. The coats will be double brested and the conductors will be trimmed in gold braid and the brakemen in silver braid. Bell top caps with white lines and inclined visors will be worn. The uniforms will be paid for on equal shares by the men and the railroad company.

Opening of State College.

At the opening of State College on Wednesday morning Secretary of War Newton D. Baker urged all college men to seriously enter into military training provided by the War Department in the many units of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. About 4,000 students and faculty members and town people greeted the secretary who arrived at 11 o'clock. The reception parade was headed by the student military band.

Both Arms Broken.

Harry Jodon, who came to Bellefonte from Akron, Ohio, this week and was employed by the electricians at the building being erected for the J. K. & C. H. Eagle silk mill at Bellefonte, fell a distance of 12 feet when he lost his balance while standing on one of the steel beam girders on Wednesday morning. Both arms were broken at the wrist and he was hurried to the hospital for treatment.

Hand Torn by Dynamite.

John Holeva, a miner, employed by Cedar Hill Coal Co., was admitted to the Cottage State hospital in Philipsburg on Friday morning, his left hand having been badly torn by an explosion of dynamite He will lose his thumb.

VETERAN CLUB REUNION.

Twenty-seven Civil War Soldiers Assembled at Grange Park.

The 46th annual reunion of the Centre County Veteran Corps Association held at Grange Park last week proved to be one of the most successful in the eventful history of the organization. Twenty-seven grizzled war veterans assembled and fought the Civil war over again. The Pine Grove Citizens band was early on the ground and was quite liberal with splendid music. Rev. W. C. Carpenter's Close Call.

Robert Brennaman, a carpenter of State College, had a narrow escape from serious and possibly fatal injuries Friday morning when he fell from the scaffolding on which he was working to the pavement, a distance of about 20 feet. He was working on the second story of the Dr. Foster building on Allen street. In falling, he fortunately struck his shoulder against a part of the scaffolding and this caused him to land on his feet, escaping with a few bruises and a general shaking up.

Glass Factory for Philipsburg.

Residents of Philipsburg are very much elated over a recent visit of capitalists to that section who went over the plot south of Philipsburg and known as Glass City, apparently inspecting the property with intentions of purchasing it and placing it in operation. Should they decide to go ahead it will mean an additional big industry for Philipsburg.

BELL TELEPHONE CO. COMPROMISES ON RATES

Abandons Toll Charges Levied May 1st on Many Exchanges.

AS IT AFFECTS COUNTY

As a result of the active opposition voiced by many of the subscribers of the Bell Telephone company following the filing of increased rates and extra toll charges on May 1st, the telephone company made a compromise during the past week to the five attorneys representing their dissatisfied subscribers and the same has been accepted.

This compromise was rather lengthy and is subject to approval by the Public Service Commission but is in effect until a decision regarding the increased rates is given, which it is expected will be very shortly after October 1st.

Briefly, the compromise discontinues toll charges placed on 243 exchanges throughout the state. In discontinuing the toll charge the business telephones have been placed on an increased rental basis, thus granting that which the attorneys pleaded for—doing away with toll charges by making flat rental increases. All business telephones have the rental increased from 50 cents per month. Residence telephones are not changed.

In Centre county a repeal of the toll charges of 10 cents per call between Bellefonte, Centre Hall, State College, and Boalsburg, is made. The toll charge of 14 cents for calls between Bellefonte, Millheim and Spring Mills, and the old rate of 14 cents for calls between Millheim and State College, established four years ago, will, be kept in force.

William P. Humes Buried.

Funeral services for the late William P. Humes were conducted at the house on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with his pastor, Rev. Dr. William K. McKinney in charge. Rev. McKinney was assisted by Rev. E. H. Yocum and Rev. Thomas Young. From the hours of 3 to 4 the business places of Bellefonte remained closed and the schools were dismissed at 3 o'clock in respect to the deceased.

Dr. McKinney began his services by reading the 23rd Psalm and 50th chapter of 1st Corinthians. The Scriptural reading was followed by prayer by Rev. Yocum, after which Dr. McKinney talked on John 10:28, "I give unto them eternal life, they shall never perish; neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand." In view of the fact that Mr. Humes had been an active member of the Presbyterian church for over 50 years and had been an elder for 20 years, the text was most appropriate and the remarks made by Dr. McKinney on the text were appropriately closed with a poem, "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep." Dr. Yocum's prayer was most affecting. His presence at the funeral was in keeping with an agreement entered into years ago that one of the two would attend the other's funeral. Dr. Yocum and Mr. Humes were especially close friends. Rev. Thomas Young closed the services by pronouncing the benediction.

Having followed banking as his life's career it was but natural that his associates should have a part in showing the last respects for one whose daily acts in years reflected his life dedicated to service for others. The pall bearers were John M. Shugert, N. E. Robb, J. K. Barnhart, John Curtin, C. E. Robb, and N. E. Cole. Interment was made in the Humes' family plot in the Union cemetery.

REGISTRATION OF MEN EXCEEDS WOMEN BY 228

Complete Figures in County Give Totals of 10,748 and 10,520.

PLANS FOR ELECTION

The number of men registered in Centre County for the November election exceeds the total resistration of women by exactly 228. With the tabulation not completed last week The Republican forecasted that the registration of men would run ahead of that of women by probably 250. This prediction was based on calculations made by Rash W. Irwin, chief clerk to the County Commissioners, and proves to be remarkably accurate, particularly since it was made when a half dozen or more districts had not reported.

In a number of counties in the State the registration of women runs far ahead of that of the men, and some persons anticipated that a similar condition would be found to exist in Centre County. The opposite happens to be the case.

The County Commissioners are endeavoring to size up the situation and ascertain what arrangements will be necessary to handle the greatly increased vote at the November election. If the calculations of some persons are correct and a comparatively small percentage of the registered women vote most of the present polling places will be large enough to meet increased demands. After this year, when women are more familiar with voting, it is expected that nearly all polling places will have to be enlarged. Even without the women casting their ballots many of the present polling places are crowded during the last hour for voting. Under the law all voters inside the polling place when the clock registers 7 p. m. are privileged to vote.

Specimen unofficial ballots, similar to what will be used on November 2nd, were received in Bellefonte from Harrisburg this week. The ballot will be unusually large and will require more or less study, particularly by persons not familiar with such matters.

The registration by districts in the county follows:

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION

Will Observe Forest Protection Next Week, September 26 to Oct. 2.

Governor Sproul on Monday issued a proclamation calling upon the citizens of Pennsylvania to observe Forest Protection Week during the period between September 26 and October 2. He urged all residents of the State to take action for the prevention and suppression of forest fires so that the five millions of acres now barren because of fires may again grow trees.

Under the direction of Gifford Pinchot, the State's chief forester, the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry is making preperations for Statewide observance of the Forest Protection Week. Ministers, school teachers and leaders of civic and commercial organizations are asked to take active parts in the campaign to stop the fires that every year cause tremendous damage to the forests of Pennsylvania.

Big Blair County Fair.

The big Blair county fair gives promise of surpassing all the big fairs in Central Pennsylvania this year. Special excursions by the P. R. R. Co. within a radius of 100 miles are announced. It will be held in the Altoona Fair grounds next week, September 21, 22, 23, 24. A force of men has been at work during the past month erecting new buildings and putting everything in shape to entertain a large crowd. Many special entertaining features have been arranged for and the stock exhibits will be very extensive. A big midway and a racing card including 11 events and purses amounting to $5,000 will give an abundance of life and activity to this big fair and a number of people from Centre county are planning to go.

Bringing Bodies from France.

With the arrival of the body of Private Edward Guy Zerbe, of Beech Creek, who died at Neunahr, Germany, while serving in the army of occupation 19 months ago comes the information that there will be three more bodies come into this section in the near future. They are Private Charles Rudolph Shilling, of Beech Creek; Private Joseph Bechdel and Sergeant Howard Bitner, of Blanchard. Private Shilling died of pneumonia about a month after Private Zerbe, in the base hospital at Angers, France. Private Bechdel and Sergeant Bitner were both killed in action. The body of Private Zerbe arrived Sunday morning in a hermetically sealed casket and it was not opened. Many attended the funeral services, held Sunday afternoon, and a long line of automobiles conveyed the friends to Clark's cemetery, Beech Creek, where interment was made.

Rosh Hashanah.

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, was observed in this section as in all parts of the world on Monday, all Jewish stores being closed. Orthodox Jews kept their stores closed two days, observing the usual custom of keeping both the New Year's day and day following as holidays, while Reformed Jews kept their stores closed but the one day. The festival of the New Year marks the first of a series of holidays that come during the next few weeks, a period that might well be called the Jewish holiday season.

Record Corn Crop This Year.

The largest corn crop on record is the forecast for this year's crop. It is expected to beat the former record of 1912 by more than 12,000,000 bushels. This mark will be easily passed if frost should stay off a short time yet and late fields given a better opportunity to mature. Potatoes are also looking very promising and there is promise of an unusual yield. With these two important crops so favorable there is hope of continued lowering of food prices.

Hurley County Highway Supt.

Announcement was made at Harrisburg yesterday of the appointment of W. E. Hurley as highway superintendent for Centre County. He assumes his new duties at once. Mr. Hurley has had extensive experience in highway work and is highly regarded by the highway department officials

SILK MILL SOON READY TO BEGIN OPERATING

Will Employ About 65 Girls and 45 Men and Boys.

CAN EARN GOOD MONEY

An inspection of the fine large building of J. H. & C. K. Eagle, of Shamokin, erected at Bellefonte and which will be ready to place in operation in a few weeks, gives one a most favorable impression that Bellefonte is acquiring a new industry that will bring increased prosperity to this section. As the silk industry has been rather dull the past month or so there has been no hurry to rush the silk mill through and everything is being done in a careful and substantial manner.

Charles Rodenberger, of Shamokin, master mechanic for J. H. & C. K. Eagle, arrived in Bellefonte on Monday evening and is getting the shafting in place and making ready for the installation of the machines, which are at Shamokin ready to ship here in the next week or two. The first machines to be installed will be the winders and they can be placed at the rate of about 20 a week for each two men working. There will be 116 of these machines in the plant, together with the other machinery. After the winding machines are installed experienced winders will teach new employes. From the winding machines the employes will be promoted to other machines. The company will pay learners on a flat minimum daily rate of pay until their earnings as shown by the piece-work method amounts to more than the minimum wage, after which they will go on the piece-work system. The employes will make from $75 to $125 per month and occasionally more. The first few weeks the mill will only operate on daylight shift but after the employes become experienced it will operate on the three-shift plan. An employment superintendent will be here next month to consider all applications for employment.

Maine Goes Republican By Tremendous Sweep

By the greatest Republican landslide ever known in that State, Maine on Monday elected Frederick H. Parkhurst Governor by 65,000 over B. G. McIntire, his Democratic opponent.

In a presidential year political observers have for a long time past held that "As goes Maine, so goes the Union," and Monday's result in that State is viewed everywhere as foreshadowing Harding's election for President by an overwhelming plurality in November.

The chief significance of the decisive Republican triumph in Maine is that President Wilson's administration and his League of Nations was the dominant issue. The decision is looked upon as a complete repudiation of the Wilson administration from top to bottom.

When the unprecedented Republican majority was announced at the White House at Washington President Wilson's only comment was that it was "very decisive."

If the vote in other States on November 2nd is anywhere near like that just recorded in the Pine Tree State, Harding will be elected President with a popular majority as large as that given Roosevelt in 1904.

Women voted for the first time in Maine on Monday and the returns show that an overwhelming number of them cast their ballots for the Republican ticket.

Taken to West Point.

Clarence M. Gross, a young man from State College who was given a hearing before Judge Quigley last week on being charged with larceny of clothing from a fraternity house at State College and on whom sentence was suspended because he had enlisted last May in the regular army West Point Military and had left without leave, was taken from Bellefonte to West Point on Saturday morning by Sergeant Joseph E. Grady, to answer on a charge of being absent without leave.

Electric Supplies Sold.

The stock of electrical fixtures and supplies carried by the State Centre Electric company at their stores in Bellefonte and State College has been purchased by the Electric Supplies Co. who operate stores of a similar nature in Clearfield and Philipsburg. They will continue to conduct the stores in Bellefonte and State College and the State-Centre Electric company will maintain their offices as usual. As the fixtures and stock were purchased at inventory no total consideration is given.

PROMINENT PEOPLE

"Crime of the First Magnitude"

Independence for the Philippines before 25 years is characterized as "a crime of the first magnitude" by Representative C. H. Randall of California. He was a member of the congressional party touring the Orient, on the army transport, Great Northern on his way to the United States. In Honolulu, he said:

"You will find practically every member of the congressional party of the same mind. After seeing the Philippine islands, it was our almost unanimous verdict that they are not ready for independence.

"It would be a crime of the first magnitude to cast these people adrift. The better-educated Filipinos who are not politicians are practically unanimous in their opposition to independence.

"The development of the Philippine islands is stagnated because of lack of capital, due to uncertainty of the status of the future government more than to any other cause.

"I am unalterably opposed to surrendering the Philippine islands to other than American jurisdiction for these reasons, and for another reason fraught with profound omen to the United States and the entire race.

"The shadow of Japanese aggression overlies almost the entire Orient. Thoughtful men are in semiterror at the prospect of Japanese domination of Siberia, China, Korea and of the Philippine islands, if the United States releases them."

Carol of Roumania: Clever Prince

Prince Carol of Roumania, who has been with us for quite a visit, has gone home, after traversing the country from West to East. He was traveling on business, he said, his business being to see our flour mills, packing plants and other large industries. Also the prince was traveling half-and-half incognito—just enough to dodge interviews when he felt like it.

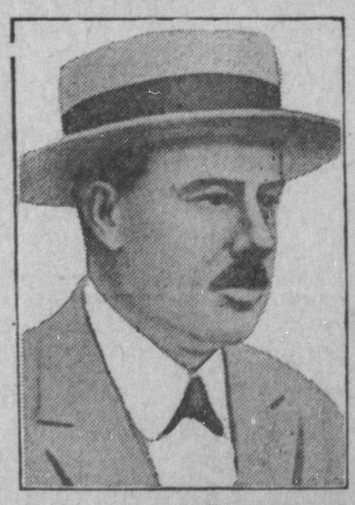
The Roumanian prince, when he did talk, was a booster for his country the equal of any Californian, which is saying a lot. He came here heralded as a lady-killer, but apparently had nothing to do with them, except to admire them. He produced the impression of being a clever young fellow, with something up his sleeve. In New York, with a slight show of emotion, Prince Carol referred to his marriage to twenty-year-old titleless, dowerless Mme. Zizi Lambrino and the subsequent annulment by his royal parents for the first time.

"I do not care to bring up past sorrows," he said. "The incident is closed and I only look forward to the discharge of my duties as crown prince of Roumania and heir to the throne."

Upon his return to Roumania, he said, he would rejoin the army and assume command of his old mountain regiment and work with all his energy for the future prosperity of his country.

"My present visit to the United States is only an informal and unofficial one," he said, "but I intend to pay an official and longer visit some time later, probably with the queen, next spring."

A. T. Walker: $50,000,000 Secretary



Herewith is a snapshot portrait of Arthur T. Walker, the obscure secretary to whom Edward F. Searles of Methuen, Mass., left the bulk of his $50,000,000 estate inherited from his wife, who was the widow of Mark Hopkins, one of the builders of the Union Pacific. It will be many a day, even if there is no contest over the will, before New York and New England stops talking about it.

Mr. Walker to date has been kept busy dodging reporters and cameramen. He has an office in New York, and a two-room apartment in Brooklyn. He is a bachelor, about forty-five years of age. He was born in Canada, and has not yet completed his naturalization.

Searles gave a million-dollar schoolhouse and several churches to Methuen and was known for his benefactions. In his will, however, no provision was made for institutional gifts. A cousin receives $1,000,000, her son $2,500,000, a nephew $500,000 and another nephew $250,000. Should any of these beneficiaries contest the will his share goes to the University of California.

He disdained a residence in Paris and a palace in California. Instead he went back to the old homestead in Methuen, reconstructing it from a farmhouse into a veritable castle, fortified completely against intrusion. There he lived the latter years of his life.

Key Pittman Begins Campaigning

Senator Key Pittman of Nevada (portrait herewith) will direct the Democratic national campaign in states west of the Rocky mountains, it has been announced at Democratic headquarters today. Senator Pittman, after settling with National Chairman George White the amount of territory under his jurisdiction, left for San Francisco to establish his headquarters.

Senator Pittman is forty-eight years old, and is not a "native son," having been born in Vicksburg, Miss. His odd first name is his mother's maiden name. Tutors gave him his educational start in life and he got the finishing touches in the Southwestern Presbyterian university at Clarksville, Tenn. Then he started in in a third state by beginning the practice of law in Seattle in 1892. Still roving he put in the years between 1897 and 1901 in the Northwest territory and Alaska. Among other things, he was Nome's first prosecuting attorney. Nevada then attracted him and he went to Tonopah in 1902. He held several positions by appointment, but never ran for office until he was elected to the senate. He was re-elected in 1916 to serve until 1923.

Women Celebrate the Victory of Suffrage

Unfurling the suffrage flag at the headquarters of the National Woman's party in Washington was the occasion for a joyous demonstration by party workers. Miss Alice Paul, chairman, is on the balcony. The flag has 36 stars, the last added representing Tennessee.

German Works Run By State

Economic Bureau Looks After Electric, Steel and Aluminum Plants.

BUT EXTENSION IS DELAYED

Nationalization of Coal Mines May Have to Wait Change in Makeup of Reichstag—Holding Company Formed.

Washington.—Since the conclusion of the Spa conference, at which Germany agreed to increase its coal output in order to bring the deliveries to France up to approximately 2,000,000 tons per month, there has been renewed agitation among the miners for the nationalization of the mining industry in the hope that better working conditions and pay may be obtained under such a condition than with the mines owned and operated by Hugo Stinnes and his few associate coal barons. Other sections of German industrial life are also likely to be ultimately run by the state, although it will probably be necessary for the German people to elect a more radical reichstag to effect these changes, as the present cabinet is not pledged to any great extension of the principle of public ownership and operation.

In the meantime, however, as the result of earlier agitation for government control and operation of the leading industries, the national economic bureau of the German treasury department has quite a few important government controlled industrial plants to look after, according to a summary of its activities recently published in the German press and quoted from in commerce reports. The most important of the government factories are the arsenals and naval construction yards, which are now engaged on non-military construction. This includes the manufacture of steel, the making of all sorts and descriptions of machinery in large quantities, especially for agricultural and domestic purposes, and the repairing of rolling stock and locomotives. Small-arms works are being maintained as such so far as is consistent with the provisions of the peace treaty.

State in Control.

"In order to consolidate the government interests in these different undertakings a company was formed in December, 1919, called the German Industrial Stock company, with a capital of 100,000,000 marks (nominally $23,800,000; at current exchange, about $2,250,000); the whole of the shares being in the hands of the government. The state thus exercises either full or partial control, according to the number of electrical, electrochemical and other undertakings.

The huge generating station at Zschornewitz, near Bitterfield, belonging to the Electric Plant company, is controlled. It provides the current for the state nitrogen works in Wittenberg, obtaining the necessary fuel from adjacent lignite mines. It has an output of 100,000 kilowatts and, besides running the nitrogen plant, supplies current to the Berlin Electric works, and will shortly extend this supply of energy to Leipsic and the province of Saxony. The Central German Power Works company comprises the central power station at Senftenberg, formerly belonging to the Aluminum works, Lauta, with an output of 60,000 kilowatts; and the Niederlausitzer Power plant, near Spremberg, with adjacent lignite mines, and with an output of 20,000 kilowatts. Up to the present the electric energy developed by these two plants has been utilized in the manufacture of aluminum and nitrogen. In the future it will also be employed to supply electricity for the surrounding industrial districts.

The East Prussia central station, which was recently erected to provide the province of East Prussia with electric power, is controlled, as also is the Alz works, Munich, which was formed in 1918, in conjunction with the Dr. Wacker Alexander company, for electrochemical manufacturing, to utilize the water power of the lower Alz. The output is, roughly, 20,000 kilowatts. The Wurttemberg Rural Electric company was reorganized in 1919 to enable the state, with the consent of the Wurttemberg government, to take a dominant interest in the supply of electricity to the province of Wurttemberg.

Great efforts were made during the war to put the manufacture of aluminum on a firm footing, in order to make Germany independent of foreign supplies. Plants were erected and the manufacture started at Horrem, Bitterfeld and Rummelsburg, each factory having an output of 3,000 tons of aluminum per annum. In 1916 the Erftwerk company was taken over by the government and reorganized with a capital of 25,000,000 marks. The branch works of this company, in Grevenbroich (lower Rhine), have been fitted up to produce 12,000 tons of aluminum per annum.

Iron and Steel Mills.

In regard to iron and steel mills the Ilseder Smelting company and the Peiner Rolling Mills company are controlled. These works have a capital of 20,000,000 marks, of which the government holds 25 per cent. The chief features of this undertaking are that the mines producing the ore are in close proximity to the smelting and rolling plant, and that, situated as they are in central Germany, they have an advantage over the competing works in Westphalia in placing their output in adjacent districts. In pre-war days their yearly output of ore amounted to 1,000,000 tons.

The Bavarian Lloyd Shipping company in Regensburg with a capital of 16,000,000 marks, a large portion of which belongs to the state, is also represented on the board of the Government Holding company. The Bavarian Lloyd held a commanding position in transport work on the Danube and neighboring rivers, but lost the greater part of its vessels at the end of the war. Negotiations are, however, proceeding between the different government departments and others interested to put the company once more on a commercial footing. The German ship-salvage company "Odin," Berlin, with a capital of 5,000,000 marks, was originally formed to carry out work in connection with the salvage of transports and other shipping in the Baltic. The company was not very successful owing to the unsuitable methods of salvage adopted. It is now proposed to divert the company's activities to towage and lighterage work.

According to a resolution adopted by the German Metal Economic league, reported by the Wolff Telegraph Bureau, the export of 50 per cent of all pig metals coming from German mines during May, June, July and August, is to be permitted. No limit is placed upon the export of all partly manufactured metal products, provided they are not sold at prices under the domestic rates. German manufacturers may import raw metals, if they do not pay more than the standard prices in the world market. German export prices on semi-manufactured iron and steel products have been materially lowered during the last few months. Bar iron selling at 6,336 marks in April has been cut to 4,000 marks per ton for export to Holland and Switzerland and to 3,650 to Denmark, the latter being the same as the domestic rate in Germany. The iron industry is protesting against further payment of export duties.

BLAME DISASTER TO CARL

Austrian Collapse Charged to Emperor's Conflicting War Orders, Says Commission.

Vienna.—Chief blame for the collapse of the Austrian forces on the Piave river, in the Austro-Italian campaign, is placed on the former Emperor Carl by the report of a commission appointed to investigate war delinquencies.

On the fateful November 2, 1918, the report says, the then emperor issued three conflicting orders within a few hours. The first was for the conclusion of an armistice. Forty-five minutes later this was revoked and 95 minutes afterward it was issued again. During this period, it was said, the emperor consulted no one on the matter.

"We must ask," the report says, "whether the emperor and his advisers were not guided by the fear of the army flooding back on Vienna rather than by any other circumstances. It may be, perhaps, not by express intention but rather subconsciously, that the desire prevailed with more than one of these men that the troops had better not return home at all."

Separated for 41 Years, Then Kiss and Make Up

When Mrs. Mary Walrad and Charles L. Walrad, each seventy-six years old, met at the Soldiers' home at Leavenworth, Kan., recently, it was the first time they had seen each other in 41 years. It was also the first time Walrad had seen his daughter since she was five months old. Mrs. Walrad lives at North Miami, Okla. She and her husband separated in Joplin, Mo., in 1879. Three weeks ago Walrad located his wife, the meeting was arranged, they kissed and made up and will live together again.

SICK WOMEN HEAR ME

You Can Be Free from Pain as I Am, if You Do as I Did.

Harrington, Me.—"I suffered with backache, pains through my hips and such a bearing down feeling that I could not stand on my feet. I also had other distressing symptoms. At times I had to give up work. I tried a number of remedies but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me more good than anything else. I am regular, do not suffer the pains I used to, keep house and do all my work. I recommend your medicine to all who suffer as I did and you may use my letter as you like."—Mrs. MINNIE MITCHELL, Harrington, Me.

There are many women who suffer as Mrs. Mitchell did and who are being benefited by this great medicine every day. It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is made from extracts of roots and herbs and is a safe medium for women. If you need special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

When the Serb Goes Shopping

A shopping trip for the peasants of Serbia means something more than calling the corner grocery on the phone or a few hours in the town shops. Usually it consists of a day's trip across country, a day of bargaining in the markets and another day to return home. Towns are few and widely scattered and transport facilities are almost unknown. This photograph shows a peasant on the way to market with the usual equipment.

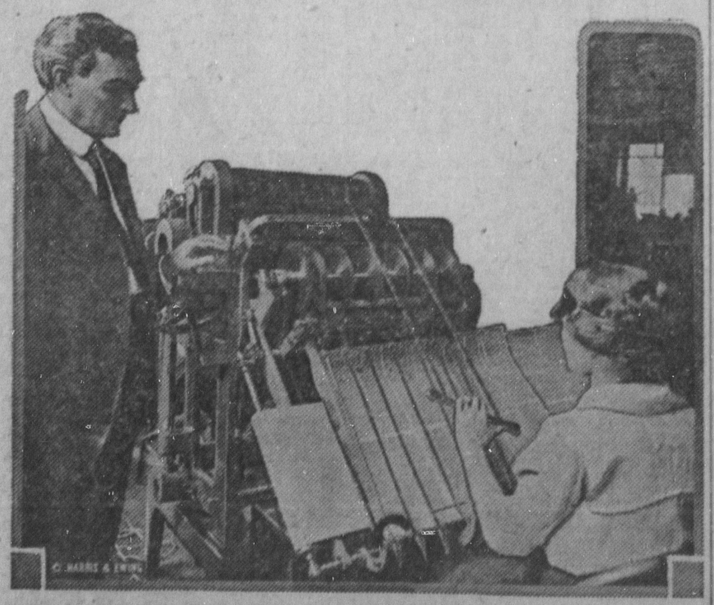
For Perforating Postage Stamps



This machine, designed by Benjamin R. Stickney for the bureau of engraving and printing, perforates postage stamps both lengthwise and crosswise, after they have been printed and gummed. It also cuts the stamps into sheets of 100 each. Mr. Stickney, who has been employed in the bureau for several years, received a handsome promotion for his work on this and a machine used to print the stamps. More than 300 tons of machinery in the bureau was designed and perfected by him.

In a Quandary.

"I say, I'm in a fix with my girl!" said young Dubbs disconsolately.

"Why?" replied his sympathetic friend, "what's the matter, my boy? Have a row?"

"No, it isn't that. You see, I've been saying so many nice things to her that she's getting conceited. I can't stop it, and I can't keep it up."

"Can't, eh? Why not?"

"Well, you see, if I kept on she'll begin to think she's too good for me, and if I stop she'll think I don't care for her any more."

A Home Run.

George Ade, the incorrigible bachelor scored a home run off marriage at a wedding breakfast in Chicago.

"The emblem of peace is the olive branch. The emblem of war is—is—"

Here the paterfamilias hesitated, and from his place at the top of the table Mr. Ade spoke up:

"The emblem of war," he said, "is of course, the orange blossom."

Something in a Name, After All.

The Bishop of Singapore is not the only prelate who has distinguished himself in the handling of firearms. CANADA'S HARVEST IS OVER Threshing Shows Increase Over Expected Yields.

The Winnipeg Free Press of a few days ago contained a cartoon of which the following is a copy:

This probably as much as anything else will give some idea of the state of mind of the Western Canada farmer, as he watches the tally from the thrashing machine while his wheat is being carried to the elevator.

From all sections of the country, the most optimistic reports are received, the local and city papers are filled with reports from twenty to thirty bushels of wheat to the acre, while in some places oats are showing a record of as high as 120 bushels to the acre.

Referring to Saskatchewan, it is confidently expected that the wheat yield will be nearly 125 million bushels. Heavy rains which fell in districts that did not promise so well in July, had greatly improved the prospects there, and there is no question that paying yields will be produced. The yields in the eastern part of the province may not show to the advantage that will those of the western part, but too much cannot be said of this, for it is the results as they come from the machine, and often these prove happily deceptive.

There is now every reason to believe that the wheat crop of the three prairie provinces will approach 250 million bushels.

Alberta will exceed the 70 million bushels that had been looked for. The average yield will be considerably higher than it has been in the province in any of the last four years. The Department of Agriculture in a recent report gave the opinion that it cannot fall below twenty-two bushels to the acre, and that it might easily pass the twenty-five bushel mark. Most of the wheat in the province when the report was written, stood well up to three feet high, and on some fields was still higher. The report goes on that in parts of Southern Alberta forty and fifty bushels to the acre yields will not be uncommon, while there will be a good many yields of from thirty to thirty-five bushels to the acre.

In the northwest part of the province, in the country surrounding Battleford and adjacent to the Canadian National Railway line to Lloydminster, and south the crops are excellent and the yield will be heavy.

A larger than average wheat crop is being thrashed in Manitoba. It has been estimated that the total yield of the three provinces will not be less than 225,000,000 bushels, and it may be that somewhere between 250,000,000 and 300,000,000 bushels will be the final figure.

Oats is a good crop in all three provinces. This crop has also grown rapidly during the last two or three weeks. Excepting from those fields which were sown late for green feed, the yield will be heavy and the grain excellent. Barley and rye are above the average. There was sufficient help to harvest the crop.—Advertisement.

PLAN TO WATER VAST DRY AREA

Project Up to Congress to Reclaim 4,000,000 Acres at $250,000,000 Expense.

TURN DESERT INTO EMPIRE

Members of House Committee on Appropriations and Group of Western Colleagues Make Inspection Tour of Government Projects.

Washington.—Plans for putting 4,000,000 acres of land on the agricultural map of the United States by a program of reclamation calling for the expenditure of about $250,000,000 over a ten-year period are to be considered seriously by congress when it reassembles.

Members of the house appropriations committee and a group of Western colleagues who have been making an inspection tour of the government's reclamation projects and of the national parks in company with officials of the department of the interior, after traveling 10,000 miles by train and 4,000 miles by auto and viewing the irrigation achievements since 1902 have come back earnest converts to a big reclamation plan.

Arthur P. Davis, director and chief engineer of the reclamation service, who accompanied the congressional tour, is now in the West visiting other projects and preparing his recommendations for the annual estimates to be submitted to Secretary Payne.

Secretary Payne, who has just inspected two of the government's principal reclamation projects at Yakima, Wash., and Shoshone, Wyo., has become an enthusiast regarding the desirability of utilizing America's undeveloped resources by building new commonwealths in the arid West.

While the reclamation service is restricted in its estimates to $8,000,000 or $9,000,000, equivalent to the amount received by sale of public lands, sale of water and returns on irrigation developments, Secretary Payne has already declared his intention of asking congress for $12,000,000 to open up 160,000 acres of reclaimed land in small farms, with special consideration of the Shoshone project.

Representative Will R. Wood (Rep.) of Indiana, a member of the appropriations committee, says that he and others who have just inspected these projects have been converted from their previous reluctance to make such large appropriations and now believe that it is a national duty thus to create opportunities for its citizens to establish themselves in permanent homes on such fertile areas, wrested from the desert.

Many who opposed the "farms for service men" proposition in the last congress on the grounds that it was camouflaged reclamation have pledged their support to an out-and-out irrigation development.

Senator Jones of Washington introduced a bill in the last session which seeks an appropriation of $250,000,000 for reclamation work and the interior department has drafted a program that calls for more than that.

Turn Desert Into Empire.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon wrote a favorable report last December from the committee on irrigation and reclamation of arid lands. He pointed out that under the reclamation act passed in 1902, the government has expended in construction work a little over $123,000,000, that water for irrigation purposes has been made available for 1,780,000 acres of land, which had been largely barren, desert waste and unproductive. It is now worth from $100 to $750 an acre, with an average crop value per acre of $63.60.

"Out of the uninhabited and almost worthless desert has been carved an empire of nearly 2,000,000 acres, intensively cultivated and producing crops whose annual average gross returns per acre are about double those of the rest of the country," says Director Davis of the reclamation service.

While the bill introduced by Senator Jones calls for $250,000,000, the reclamation service is now working on 30 projects which call for a total appropriation of $302,000,000, but returns would be coming in from some of the earlier construction before the entire expenditure was made. Of the 4,000,000 acres which it is proposed to add to the farm lands about one-third is public land belonging to the United States government.

Director Davis has figured out that the average value of lands in the projects did not exceed $10 an acre, or $17,000,000, when the government irrigation was started in 1902, and that today they easily represent increases in land values of $556,000,000 due to this work, and has prepared a detailed report on this for congress. He figures that only 3.5 per cent of the total ultimate cost will be finally charged against the government.

LACK OF SHIPS HALTS TOURISTS

All Available Accommodations Are Booked Three Months in Advance.

PASSPORTS AT A PREMIUM

"Ships, Ships and More Ships" Is Plea From United States Ports—Travel Only Half What It Was in 1914.

New York.—The slogan of "ships! ships! and still more ships!" so effectively used during the war to speed up America's ship-building program as a defiance of the submarine campaign still is heard in American seaports.

It comes, however, not so much from those having freight for transit as it does from those who desire to make trips to foreign shores on business or pleasure.

Steamship accommodations for all lands, despite more than a doubling of pre-wartime tariffs, and rigid restrictions as to passports are at a premium.

All Accommodations Booked.

Representatives in New York and other terminals of passenger-carrying lines say that all available accommodations are booked as far as three months ahead. The unfortunate business man faced with the need of making an unexpected trip abroad, is forced to depend on possible cancellations of previously engaged passage on the part of someone who at the last moment is prevented from sailing.

On many ships third-class accommodations hold men and women who are financially able to travel in the best that the ship affords. It is no infrequent occurrence for a staid banker, or a wealthy head of a large business house to be found booked with the humble alien laborer returning to the land of his birth for a visit.

It was recently said by the head of a large line in speaking of tariffs, that in 1914 a man could purchase a tourist ticket including rail fares and hotel accommodations for a trip half way around the world for the same sum that he is now compelled to pay for a one-way ticket from New York to a Mediterranean port.

Records of departures and arrivals as kept here by the Steamship Men's association show that despite the very apparent rush, travel is only about half, as to number of passengers, what it was in 1914. In May and June of that year there sailed from American to transatlantic ports 164,300 persons of whom more than 100,000 were classed as third class. In the same months of 1920 the outgoing total was 80,323 of whom 50,000 were third class.

Arrivals Show Slump.

Of incoming passengers in one month of 1914 there were 105,100 persons. The corresponding month this year showed 45,120 arrivals.

The rush this year and the difficulty in getting accommodations is accounted for by the fact that there is needed "ships, ships and more ships!" of the passenger-carrying class. Available tonnage, due to the ravages of the war, is greatly depleted. The North German Lloyd and the Hamburg-American lines, which prior to the war carried a large percentage of the transatlantic travel, do not exist.

In addition, many of the big liners of allied flags are gone, as for example, the Lusitania. Almost all the ships of the pre-war fleet of another large British line were submarine victims. Other ships were of a necessity laid up for periods of more than a year for reconditioning due to their accommodations having been ripped out with axes to make them into troop carriers. An example of this is the huge Olympic, which but recently was returned to her passenger-carrying trade.

Rattlesnake and Old Man Fight to Death

Atlanta, Ga.—Word has been brought to Atlanta of a remarkable fight to the death between an aged farmer, living near Buckhead, and a giant rattlesnake.

The farmer, Mack Richards, who is well advanced in years, was mending a fence when he disturbed a rattlesnake so large that when piled in a coil its head was more than two feet above the ground.

The snake struck at him and would have reached its mark if it had not been deflected by heavy briars.

Before it could coil again, Mr. Richards seized a rail, and pinned the snake against the ground. He tried to call for help, but none was near.

The snake, by main strength, twisted itself out from under the rail and prepared to strike again.

This time Mr. Richards got beyond striking distance, but the snake followed him and continued the attack.

Mr. Richards picked up a shorter rail and with it gave battle, finally killing the reptile. It measures six feet in length.

MURDERER LEAVES PRISON RICH MAN

Made Rich by Oil Lands While Serving Term in Texas Penitentiary.

Eastland, Tex.—"Uncle Bill" Edwards, who was sentenced to the penitentiary about ten years ago for the murder of a neighbor, G. A. Rogers, entered upon his term of 36 years of imprisonment a poor farmer. He was released a few days ago, upon pardon of Gov. W. P. Hobby, and finds himself a millionaire, all due to the discovery of oil upon his 320-acre hillside farm.

Edwards was pardoned on his seventieth birthday, the pardon coming as a birthday gift. He had served a few months short of ten years in prison.

He Was Released.

Edwards was offered a pardon by Governor Colquitt several years ago, and again by Governor Ferguson, upon petition of his relatives. In both instances Edwards refused the pardon, on the ground that he had not yet suffered enough for the crime he had committed. It was only a few days ago that he arrived at the conclusion that he had atoned for the deed, and he thereupon wrote Governor Hobby, who granted the pardon.

During the time that Edwards was in prison his farm and other interests were looked after by relatives, who leased the land for a big price when oil was discovered. The fortune of the aged man began piling up and it was all held for him, pending his release from prison.

"Uncle Bill" does not know what he will do with all his wealth, but he is considering plans for using a part of it for the benefit of humanity.

'MONEY MAKER' GETS $37,000

Machine Proves Profitable for Two Swindlers Till Law Steps In.

New York.—Stanley Waitkas, twenty-five, and Martin Koleja, forty, were held in $10,000 bail each for examination on charges of grand larceny.

The affidavits allege that on May 18 the men swindled Joseph Norwich of 676 Wales avenue, out of $2,250, by selling him what they told him was a money-making machine.

Since August 3, 1919, the detectives say, the two men are believed to have obtained not les than $37,000 from various victims in this city, Boston, Bridgeport, Bayonne, Philadelphia, Newark, Arlington, Mass., and Bangor, Me., through selling "money-making machines" to 24 persons, mostly foreigners. The schemers, according to the police, first made it their business to find out how much money the prospective victim had saved up, and to make their price for the money machine approximate this amount.

Love for Mother-in-Law Leads to Man's Arrest

Some men like to feel their mothers-in-law are about a million miles away. But Robert Dawson of Louisville, Ky., isn't in that class. He and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Christine Tepper, were arrested in Fort Wayne, Ind., Dawson being accused of leaving his family in Louisville. His only excuse was his infatuation for his wife's mother.

Pinned Fifteen Hours by Horse.

Concrete, N. D.—Al Olson, a rancher, spent 15 hours under a horse which fell with him into a gulley near here, and was caught under some brush. The horse was unable to rise and Olson's legs were caught under the animal in such a manner that he could not extricate himself. The horse struggled to his feet, and during the effort bruised Olson considerably. The man dug a hole in the earth with a pocket knife in which to bury his head when the horse attempted to get up

OVERFOND OF LAW

Litigation Called Curse of Gold Coast Natives.

No Dispute Seems Too Small to Be Taken Into Court—Quarrels Among Petty "Chiefs" Provide Fat Fees for Native Lawyers.

The Gold Coast, on the west coast of Africa, is a paradise of lawyers, say Ethel and Olar Letheridge, special correspondents of the London Daily Telegraph. They write:

A point which must be made in connection both with Ashanti and the northern territories is that these administrations are independent of the Gold Coast proper, except in so far as they acknowledge a common governor who resides at Accra. They are also included in the financial estimates of the colony as a whole, and receive military aid if it is required. Of course, they work through the secretariat, which is the channel of communication to the governor. Beyond this they are free. They have their own courts, their own police, their own methods of administering justice and their own internal legislation.

Now, this may seem a small matter, but, in all truth, it is pregnant with importance for the future of this colony. The matter in a nutshell is the simple fact that the courts of Ashanti and the northern territories will not permit the employment of native or European barristers under any circumstances.

They prefer, and quite rightly so, to deal with the native population, be they chiefs or laborers.

Now the curse of the Gold Coast is litigation. Whatever may be said about the total population of the colony, there are enough lawyers in the three towns of Sekondi, Cape Coast and Accra to make a good-sized English country village. They fairly tumble over one another. Yet they are all prosperous, they all have their motors and send their daughters to places like Cheltenham to be educated.

How on earth can it be done? is the natural query. The answer is that the gold mine they are tapping is the national chiefs. In this connection it must be remembered that, with very few exceptions the word "chief," as here employed may mean little more than the headman of a village. Forever are these petty despots quarreling over land questions, the delimitations of their boundaries, and so forth.

In Ashanti questions of this nature can be pleasantly swiftly and satisfactorily settled within an hour or two, perhaps, at practically no expense to anybody.

Not so upon the Gold Coast. The "cocoa standard" has set the pace. All these little people have money, and as soon as they covet their neighbors' land they fly to a native lawyer, or a native lawyer, even more probably, flies to them, and the interminable game of litigation starts. It may last three months, or it may last three years—the latter if the lawyers think it worth while.

Counsel are employed at altogether disproportionate fees over the most pettifogging matters, and so it goes on until the rival claimants shake hands over having at least one thing in common—they are in bankruptcy. This is no exaggeration.

In one case at Addah, the time occupied over settling a little dispute was a fortnight, and the defending counsel, who lost the case for his client, received as a fee the sum of $6,000. Another, a ruling chief who shall be nameless, since he occupies a very important position, has the doubtful pleasure of an overdraft of $40,000 at his bank, every penny of which has been frittered away over lawyers.

Simple Explanation of "Haunt."

The mystery of haunted houses often has a simple explanation. In Boston, where the occupants of a house insisted they heard mysterious sounds, it was found that a flue leading from the furnace leaked, filling the rooms with enough carbon monoxide to produce a slight poisoning, which affected the judgment and caused them to believe they heard mysterious noises. When the leak was discovered and repaired there were no longer records of the noises which had existed solely in the minds of persons affected by the gases.

Two in One.

Recently the six-year-old son of the family attempted to take up the question of future habitation with his three-year-old brother with the following result:

"Where are you going when you die, Billy?"

"In my grave."

"I mean are you going to heaven too."

FLAVOR OF SOME FRUITS BETTER RETAINED WITHOUT USING SUGAR

Putting on the Rubber, Which Should Be Immersed in Boiling Baking-Soda Solution for Ten Minutes Before Using.

Is it possible to can fruits successfully without sugar and, if so, what is the best method, are questions asked nowadays by many housewives in view of the scarcity and high price of sugar. Sometimes fruits needed to make the diet more palatable and varied during the winter have gone to waste because sugar was not available for canning when they were ripe. Such waste can be prevented; for, according to the experts of the United States department of agriculture, apples somewhat underripe, also gooseberries, raspberries, blueberries, and other berries, and sweet varieties of plums and cherries may all be canned in their own juices without the addition of sugar. In fact, many housewives think that the flavor of many fruits canned without sugar and sweetened just before using is better and more like that of fresh fruit than when canned with large quantities of sugar or in a heavy syrup. If the fruit is very sour or is canned in large pieces, heating for a few minutes when adding the sugar before serving will make it penetrate the fruit more thoroughly and evenly.

Fruits may be canned in their own juices without the addition of any sweetening in at least three ways:

A simple method of canning, especially good for such soft, juicy fruits as berries, is as follows: Pack the washed fruit into the jar and, without adding any liquid of any kind, process the fruit in the customary way for the usual period, or perhaps four or five minutes longer. The processing draws the juice from the fruit and the canned product often has an even better flavor than when syrup is added.

Another way of canning fruit without sugar is to cook the ripest fruits over moderate heat until the juice is drawn from them, adding no water unless necessary and in any case only a very little. Drain the juice from the fruit through a jelly bag, bring this juice to the boil, and use it like boiling syrup to fill the jars into which the firmer fruit has been packed. Then process the jars of fruit in the usual way.

Still Another Method.

Still another method is to cook the fruit to a sauce of the desired consistency in an open kettle, and, without adding any sugar, pour it into jars scalded in the following way: Cover the jars, tops, and rubbers with boiling water, remove them from the water one at a time as needed, being careful not to touch or wipe the jars inside, pour in the fruit while boiling hot, and seal each jar at once. This method is not so uniformly successful as when the fruit is cooked in the jar, because it is difficult to prevent bacteria and molds from getting into the fruit and the jar while they are being filled and sealed. Many housekeepers, however, can acid fruits and tomatoes in this way successfully year after year.

Mrs. Green Considerably Relieved When Husband Explained His Reasons for Singing.

Mr. Green fancied his voice, and hardly ever failed to attend any musical evenings that were given in his neighborhood.

On this occasion, however, he was rather nervous, for his wife was going with him for the first time and she had never heard him sing in public; in fact, she didn't know he had ever done so.

When the meeting was drawing to a close the chairman stood up and asked if any gentleman would oblige with a song. Green at once climbed upon the platform and obliged—much to his wife's annoyance, if one could accept her expression as a criterion of her feelings.

"George," she whispered, when the pair were on their way home, "what ever made you sing?"

"Why, my dear," said her husband, "to give pleasure to the other guests."

"Oh, I'm so glad!" sighed Mrs. Green, with great relief. "I thought you were taking vengeance on me for making you wait 20 minutes for your dinner this evening."—London Tit-Bits.

DRY FOODSTUFFS BY SUN OR HEAT

Sundrying Demands Rainless Season of High Temperature and Bright Sunshine.

IDEAL CONDITIONS OUTLINED

Where a Glass-Covered Solar Drier Is Employed, Both Dust and Insects Are Excluded—Home-Made Equipment Efficient.

Wherever climatic conditions make it possible, sundrying is the least expensive method of preserving foodstuffs. Successful sundrying demands a rainless season of bright sunshine and high temperature, and the extent to which it can be carried on in any district is determined by the length of its rainless midsummer and autumn period. Ideal conditions for sundrying all fruits, both early and late, are found in the interior districts of California, where sundrying has become an industry of large proportions, and throughout the Southwest. In the intermountain region of the Northwestern states, over the larger part of the Great Plains area, and in all but the coastal portions of the Southern states, the sundrying of such early-maturing fruits as berries, cherries, apricots, and peaches is everywhere possible. In much of this territory warm, rainless weather usually continues sufficiently far into the autumn to permit sundrying of such late-maturing fruits as apples, pears, and plums, as well as of such vegetables as sweet corn, pumpkin and squash. Outside these areas and in any region in which the late summer and early autumn are characterized by frequent rainfall or periods of low temperature and high humidity, it will not be wise to depend wholly upon sundrying, as a few days of rainy weather may cause the loss of a large amount of valuable material, specialists in United States department of agriculture say.

Disadvantage of Sundrying.

As ordinarily conducted, sundrying in the open air has the disadvantage that the drying material is exposed for a considerable length of time to the visits of insects which deposit their eggs in it and also to dust borne by air currents. Insects may be excluded by providing the trays in which the material is dried with covers of mosquito netting tacked tightly in place over the top, but such covers do not wholly prevent the entrance of dust. Both dust and insects are excluded if a glass-covered solar drier is employed, and a device of this character should be used in any district in which high winds carrying much dust prevail during the drying season.

Using Artificial Heat.

If artificial heat is used, the work is independent of weather conditions, and it is possible to dry a considerable number of foodstuffs which ordinarily cannot be dried in the sun; for example, winter varieties of apples, prunes, and such vegetables as potatoes and carrots. It has the disadvantage of requiring close supervision in order that overheating and subsequent injury to the material may be avoided, but if the work is properly done the products will retain their natural appearance and flavor to a greater degree than it is possible in sundrying. The process is more expensive than sundrying, since an evaporator must be constructed or purchased and a supply of fuel provided. For the individual family the investment represented by the evaporator need not be a burden; anyone who can use ordinary tools can construct in spare time and with a trifling outlay for material a cook-stove drier, while the heat of the stove or range employed for cooking can be utilized for operating the drier. If this home-made equipment is properly constructed it is quite as efficient as the similar small drier sold on the market at several times its cost.

"Old Salt" at Least Proved to That Swab That He Was Not to Be Trifled With.

The sailors are leaving the navy; it seems, and not a few are adventuring into the wilds of the western grain belt. A real old salt approached a farmer and asked to be "signed on."

"Worked on a farm since you left the sea?" he was asked.

"Yes, on one."

"What did you do?"

"Well, I helped with a craft of some sort. We hoisted wheat into her main hatch, and straw came out over her bows, while the other stuff poured into bags hung onto her stern. A swab told me it was a thrashing machine, but I knew he was trying to bilk me, the only thrashing around there being what I did to the swab."

Poultry Culling Demonstrations.

Realizing the importance of culling the poultry flock, County Agent J. M. Robinson has planned a county-wide campaign to have poultry keepers sell the poor, less-producing hens and keep only hens that will return a profit.

Demonstrations will be given on 19 farms. Everyone attending will be given an opportunity to handle the birds and thus get actual experience in culling poultry. In teaching culling, the best results are obtained when the farmers actually handle the birds under the directions of the poultry specialist. All those attending the meetings should come prepared to handle hens. Culling demonstrations will be held as follows:

"Cappy Ricks" Coming Here.

Genuine humor has a deeper meaning than the mere cause for laughter, and the humor of "Cappy Ricks" is genuine, because the author produces actual living persons, transferring them from life to the printed page, and from the page, very cleverly to the stage, hiding their real identities with a camouflaged name. "Cappy Ricks", which will be at the Garman theatre Friday Sept. 17, is a dramatization of Peter B. Kyne's stories, of the same name which ran for some time in The Saturday Evening Post, and in the dramatization a number of episodes best suited for the stage were selected. The stage version is the work of the celebrated playwright and dramatist, Edward E. Rose, and the original producer was Oliver Morosco, who gave it a typical Morosco cast headed by Henry Horton and Lew Welch. The scenes of the play are laid on the San Francisco waterfront, and all the character types described by Mr. Kyne in his tales are preserved.
